LINCOLN HAS TEN VOTES IN CONVENTION

TO NOMINATE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONERSHIP

"Billy" Blair, of Lexington, who is a candidate for Railroad Commissioner, won out at a meeting of the State Central Committee last week and a convention was called to nominate the democratic candidate, to be held in Louisville June 14. County mass convention will be held in the 32 counties of the district on Monday, June 12 to name delegates to the convention. Lincoln county is in this, the second railroad district, and is entitled to 10 votes in the convention, the counties in the district having representation as follows:

Counties	Delegate Vote
Gallatin	5
Gwen	14
Stott	12
Jayette	28
Jessamine	8
Fulton	12
Wayne	7
Clinton	2

Taylor	6
Green	6
Adair	7
Cumberland	3
Total	403

Judge E. B. Beard, of Shelbyville, is an active candidate for the place and as he is the only candidate from the 5th congressional district, Lincoln county will very probably instruct for him. Beard wanted to go before the people in a primary, but Blair controlled. Others mentioned as probable candidates are W. O. Davis, of Woodford, R. L. Brown, of Pulaski; J. S. Newman, of Nelson; H. D. Newcomb, of Louisville; and W. B. Claybrook, of Washington.

Game at Lancaster

WON BY THREKELD BY 8 TO 0—THE BOX SCORE.

Lancaster May 18.
The Threkeld Select School baseball team of Nicholasville defeated the Lancaster high school team here on Monday afternoon, the score being 8 to 0. Although the game was very one-sided it was interesting from start to finish. The local boys were unable to solve Evan's delivery, while the visitors found Herron for ten hits. Both teams put up good field work. The score:

Johnston for McCreary

Wilson's Adjutant General Says He'll Be Elected

Adjutant General P. F. Johnston, who is one of the leading members of Gov. Wilson's administration, and a high-class gentleman in every sense of the word, is for McCreary for Governor and expresses the belief that he will win for Governor. Editor W. P. Walton, of the Lexington Herald, wrote in his paper:

"In a conversation with Adjutant General P. F. Johnston, who attended the races yesterday, he told the writer without hesitation that he would vote for Senator McCreary for Governor and felt sure that he would be elected. He also expressed the belief that Lieutenant Governor Cox would receive the Republican nomination for Governor and make the best race any man of his party can."

Bach Club

ORGANIZED BY MUSICIANS OF STANFORD SCHOOL.

The pupils of the instrumental department of Stanford school have organized a Bach Club and will study music and musicians through the summer. The club will be under the supervision of Miss Ellen Ballou and will meet twice a week. The following have become members of the club: Mary M. Mahoney, Mary M. Kane, Mayme Singleton, Mary E. McKinney, Thos. Coleman, Vera Totten, Josephine Carpenter, Harry Reinhart, Anna D. McRoberts, Effie Baughman, Lissa Holtzclaw, Pearl Fields. Miss Kate Newland will be pianist. This should prove a benefit in musical culture and will be a source of pleasure and enjoyment and a recreation through the vacation season.

Lincoln's for Him

CHENAULT HUGUELY SUGGESTED FOR R. R. COMMISSIONER

(Danville Advocate.)
Attorney Chenauly Hugueuly, of the local bar, is being boosted for railroad commissioner from this the second district. Mr. Hugueuly is being urged by his many friends in this and the adjoining counties to enter the race, but as yet has not signified his intentions. He decides to enter the political arena, he will make a strong candidate for this important position of railroad commissioner which demands men of ability, and will cause the two present aspirants to have visions of defeat. Mr. Hugueuly is a graduate of Centre College and the Law Department. He has been practicing law for the past seven years, and his legal ability is well known and recognized throughout central Kentucky. Boyle county should have a representative on the state administration, and if Attorney Hugueuly runs, it will be one of her best chances to secure her deserts. He has a host of friends throughout the many adjoining counties, and the Advocates hopes that his decision will be to tackle the game.

New Fast Train

St. Louis Brought in Closer Touch With "The Land of the Sky."

In line with the progressive policies that have characterized the administration of President W. W. Finley, the Southern Railway last Sunday put into operation a new fast train of modern equipment to be known as the "St. Louis Special." This new train will operate between St. Louis, Mo., and Asheville, N. C., via of Louisville, Shelbyville, Harrodsburg, and Danville, Ky. and Knoxville, Tennessee. Through drawing room pullman sleeping cars of the most modern type will be carried between St. Louis and Asheville, in addition to providing through Pullman sleepers and coaches between St. Louis and western North Carolina it will also provide superior accommodations for all western people for Atlanta, Charleston, Chattanooga and all southern points.

The "St. Louis Special" will not materially change the train service between Louisville and Danville except that the equipment will be of much higher class than that formerly used. The new train will leave St. Louis at noon each day and will make the trip to Louisville in eight hours. Only eight stops will be made between Louisville and St. Louis. Two of the finest new passenger engines that have recently been set in this section passed over the Southern Railway in Kentucky for St. Louis last week and will be used on the new fast train. The Southern Railway throughout its new system is improving its trains. The "St. Louis Special" is in line with the inauguration of the "Carolina Special," which links Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis with Charleston, on the Atlantic Coast line. With the improved service, the Southern railway will now doubtless excel its past record as the popular line between the west and southwest.

Speaks Here Saturday.

CONGRESSMAN OLLIE M. JAMES.

One of the biggest events in a political way in Stanford in a long time, will be the appearance here on Saturday of Congressman Ollie M. James, of the First district, who will speak in the interest of his candidacy for United States Senator. Prominent democrats from all over this and adjoining counties are expected to be present as well as quite a number of republicans, who not only want to see the man who has been a thorn in the side of their party in Congress for the past dozen years but also want to hear the man speak who is conceded to be one of the foremost American statesmen of the day.

Mr. James will speak in the court room at two o'clock.

A delegation of democrats will be here from Danville in automobiles to hear Mr. James and escort him to Danville where he speaks on Saturday evening.

Mr. James' speech will be worth coming miles to hear. Don't miss it.

LOCAL COLORED MAN A LEADER

The Courier-Journal says: A convention of the Civic and Political League of Kentucky, an organization of colored voters, has been called by the president G. W. Gentry, of Stanford, to meet July 10 at Louisville. The president says that the date was selected so the delegates who are to attend the Republican state convention may be present at the meeting of the league one day earlier. The basis of representation is announced as one delegate for every 100 colored voters in the county or district.

The confederate veterans will hold their next annual reunion at Macon, Ga.

EUBANK

The death angel visited at Mr. M. Griffin's last week and took two children the same day. They were placed to rest in the same coffin. The parents have our greatest sympathy.

Miss Minnie Barger who has been suffering from rheumatism for several weeks, is much better at this writing.

Mr. Elijah Griffin has sold his farm and is going to Oklahoma in a few days.

The son of Mr. Jimmy Estes lost two nice horses last Saturday morning. They were struck by lightning.

Miss Edith Tilford and Miss Mary Gastineau took the examination at Somerset last week. Miss Hettie Reynolds and Mr. Clay, Singleton took the examination at Stanford also.

Dr. T. J. Acton is treating a cancer on Mrs. Myers' face. It is getting along nicely.

Miss Minnie Perkins of this place is visiting her sister at Somerset at this writing.

Miss Bertie Woodall, of Science Hill visited her grandmother, Mrs. Patsy Perkins, who lives at this place.

Rev. W. G. Tilford filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. William Perkins of Crab Orchard visited his mother Mrs. Patsy Perkins last week, who lives at this place.

Mr. Alex Gousley and family visited at Highland last Sunday. They report a nice time.

Mrs. Verna Hays, the banker's wife is visiting her parents in Louisville.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our high appreciation of the kindness shown us in the sickness and death of our sister, Mrs. Nancy Warren, and also our gratitude for the many favors that the people of Stanford and community have conferred upon our family. William Warren, Mary Warren Bettis Harris.

LANCASTER'S NEW PRINCIPAL

Prof. Bridges and family will come from Lancaster the latter part of this month and take up their abode in Richmond, where he has been elected to succeed Supt. Coates of the City Schools. Prof. Riley, of Georgia, has been chosen by the Lancaster School Board to succeed Prof. Bridges. Richmond Climax.

Forty thousand persons are homeless at Kurin, Manchuria, as the result of a fire.

Those "Eats"

ON ST. JOHN'S DAY APPEALING TO ALL MASONS.

Stanford, Ky., will be the Mecca for all Masons in that part of the state on St. John's Day next June. A mammoth celebration of the day is being arranged for, a great many lodges will take an active part, and the scale of the celebration is larger than attempted heretofore outside of the larger cities. The Patrol and drum corps, composed of the boys of the Masonic Home, will go and add their presence to the entertainment of the day. All kinds of pleasures will be provided for the guests, but a good wager would be that the "eats" will bear away the prize, in succeeding making everybody happy, contented, and at peace with the whole world. Of course it will be a great success. Everything will be high grade, but the "eat"—the eats, they are what makes the mouth water, even the anticipation will do that; and the realization can't be described in human words.

TEN GOOD ROADS COMMANDMENTS

I. Thou shalt everlastingly keep at the good work, and let nothing discourage thee.

II. Tack thou a board over those treacherous holes in bridges, and here by save the bones of both thine and thy neighbor's valuable horses.

III. Thou shalt trim out all brush and hedgerows bordering the road, that the sun and the wind of thy Creator may keep thine highways dry, and that passersby may not be suffocated unto death.

IV. The noble drag being thine handiest and most efficient weapon, thou shalt wield it twice a week at the very least. Blessed is the man who useth the drag for his fellow man's sake.

V. Thou shalt open all drain ditches on the side of the road bordering thy farm, lest the water collect in low places and form a mire in which thou or thy neighbors may get "stuck," whereupon the recording angel listeneth with pity to wicked words and snapping of the whip.

VI. Toss those aggravating and damaging stones from the track or thine highway; for thou grittest teeth when thy vehicle striketh them. And they do knock the "stuffing" right out of thy buggy and wagon wheels. Like wise do thy trouble and injure the noble horses.

VII. If thy neighbor be a shirker and doeth not his full share of improving the roads, let not this put a jamper on thine enthusiasm; but rather set a good example and show by the works that thou art truly an honest "booster" and now a hanger-on. Then shall thou neighbor blush with shame and feel constrained to follow thy shining example.

VIII. When thou drivest to town, put thy spade in the buggy. If thou comest to one of those ruts which do cause thee and thy neighbor to swear when passing over, fill thou it with a few spadefulls of dirt. Thy neighbors will bless thee for it, and thou mayest save a big repair bill on thine own vehicle. And the low places at the approaches to bridges, thou shalt treat in like manner with the same good effect.

IX. If thou hast been guilty of throwing brush or any kind of trash into one of those small drain ditches along thy farm go thou straightway and remove the obstruction. Or if thy neighbor has committed a like offense thou shalt intercede with him till he also removes those hindrances and opens up the ditches. For a road with ditches across it, or down the main track, is an abomination and a curse in the sight of every mortal who laboriously travels over it.

Do thou all this and as much more as seeth good. Preach thou to thy neighbor, and to thy neighbor's son that good roads are never a happen-so nor a vegetable that springeth up in a single night; but that they are a natural result of mortal man's untiring efforts. And remember thou these points:

Open ditches at each side of the road will perfect the drainage. The drag will smooth and work the dirt to the center of the roadbed. Sun, wind and travel will aid in completing the requirements by drying and packing the earth in places.

See thou that all these conditions exist wherever the road touches thy farm, and the traveling public will raise on tiptoes and call thee blessed among men.

Heavy rains have extinguished forest fires in Pennsylvania.

For Addams

EDITOR OF THE LITCHFIELD GAZETTE COMES OUT FOR ADDAMS FOR GOVERNOR.

(From Litchfield Gazette.)

There are two aspirants for the nomination for Governor. What ought men who have the welfare on their party at heart to do as between these two men? It seems to be conceded that they are both good men and that either one would make a good governor. Which one of these men will make the stronger race before the people next November? Let us, be candid with each other. It is a fact recognized all over the State that it is very doubtful whether Mr. McCreary can be elected. You may inquire from almost any part of the State and you will hear of large numbers of Democrats who are swearing they will not vote for him. By no means is this opposition confined to the Catholics alone but is found among all others. Then, the Republicans are evidently of the opinion that McCreary is going to get the nomination and that they can beat him. No other explanation can be made of the fact that so many Republicans are seeking the gubernatorial nomination at the hands of that party, a nomination which has usually gone begging in this state. They see at least a fine chance to be elected. If the head of the democratic ticket is defeated it is likely the entire ticket will be. Why should we jeopardize the ticket next fall in the interest of any man? Why should we even put the ticket in the least danger? Can anybody give a good reason for such a course? The political trend is toward the Democratic party all over the country. Anybody we may nominate, who is acceptable to the majority of the Democrats, can be elected Governor of Kentucky next November. Nobody seems to have anything to say against Hon. William Addams. He does not belong to any faction. He has made no enemies. He is in the prime of life. There is no reason why every democrat in the state would not vote for him. His nomination assures the success of the democratic ticket.

Here are two horses entered for a race, one of them has three lame legs, and the other one is as sound as a dollar. As a wise man on which one would you bet your money?

It is the duty of the democrats to nominate as their candidate for Governor the man who can make the strongest race.

The editor of this paper has nothing against Mr. McCreary, but is writing in the interest of the democratic party in Kentucky. Why put it in the doubtful column when we can so easily place it where there will be no doubt.

WILLIAM H. CURTIS PASSES OVER RIVER

PROMINENT LINCOLN COUNTY FARMER DIES AT HIS HOME ON CRAB ORCHARD PIKE.

William H. Curtis, one of the most prominent farmers and citizens of Lincoln county, died at his home a few miles from town on the Crab Orchard pike at ten o'clock Wednesday night after an illness of intestinal indigestion. He is survived by his wife and three sons, Messrs. Walter B. Sterling T. and Clyde Curtis, the first two named being married.

Mr. Curtis was 55 years of age and was born and reared in Lincoln county. He had been engaged in farming practically all his life and was successful in this as in other phases of life. He was a faithful Christian having been a member of the old Cumberland Presbyterian church, and held in high esteem by all who knew him as an upright, Christian gentleman, a splendid husband and father and credit to the community. His demise will be generally mourned.

After services at the home this morning at 10 o'clock, by Rev. Robert of Procherville, the remains will be brought to Buffalo Springs cemetery here for interment in their last resting place.

County Clerk George B. Cooper has returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in Nashville.

NEW DEPUTY CIRCUIT CLERK.
